

MOTION BY SUPERVISOR ZEV YAROSLAVSKY

NOVEMBER 4, 2003

The Planetary Coral Reef Foundation (PCRF) is a nonprofit organization that is pioneering a global effort to preserve and protect coral reefs, the endangered “rainforests of the sea”. Towards this aim, PCRF is committed to permanently maintaining an offshore research vessel, the RV Heraclitus, with an all-volunteer crew to study the health and vitality of coral reefs.

Over the summer, the RV Heraclitus sailed across the North Pacific on a 6-month voyage to the coast of California for a series of events in San Francisco. The RV Heraclitus will dock here in Los Angeles at the Burton Chase Park in Marina Del Rey on November 18, 2003 to November 25, 2003. During this time, the ship will be featured in a coral reef educational outreach-school program.

I, THEREFORE, MOVE that the Board of Supervisors waive half of the dock fees in the amount of $148.75 at the Burton Chase Park in Marina Del Rey beginning on November 18, 2003 though November 25, 2003, excluding the cost of liability insurance, and direct any correspondence related to this event to:
